The Watch Empire offers heirloom quality Rolex timepieces

ROLEX and Cartier are brand names that come to mind when we think of fine, precision timepieces of heirloom quality. And for good reason. Watches do not just tell time. Beyond its functions, watches have become symbolic of the pinnacle of human achievement. Not only have fine watches evolved as elegant icons of the highest quality, they have become a statement of the few, rare and precious things that we learn to value as we live longer, such as TIME and the quality of our lives during the short span of time allocated to each one of us.

That is perhaps why a great number of people look at a Rolex in a different way. If you are looking to buy a Rolex, go to The Watch Empire. It is a store that specializes in fine timepieces, both new and pre-owned. It takes pride in its comprehensive collection of Rolex, Cartier and other distinctive brands such as Patek Phillippe. Located in the heart of Downtown Los Angeles, its collection is impressive with its large selection of pre-owned Rolex watches which carry guaranteed authenticity. Expert craftsmen with over a hundred years of combined experience restore these fine watches to mint condition using only genuine Rolex replacement parts in the business. The watches carry a 2-year warranty from the store and have full independent appraisal.

The time-honored corporate practice of giving watches, as appreciation to those who have served faithfully and well over a period of time is a rite of passage that is packed with meaning. The gift of a fine watch can speak eloquently of your love or your high esteem creating a deep impression that lasts far beyond the price it costs.

Why should you buy a pre-owned Rolex instead of a new one? It just makes good sense to do so. The minute you put a brand new Rolex you just bought on your wrist, it has already lost 10-20% of its value, just like a brand new car when you drive it off from the dealership's car lot. It creates enormous value for the discriminating buyer to purchase a pre-owned, fully restored, pre-owned Rolex in mint condition at The Watch Empire and then use it for around five years and resell the watch for near, if not more than what you paid for it. The average pre-owned watch this store sells, is typically 50-70% off of the retail price. When you do it this way, a pre-owned Rolex is not only a desirable personal adornment that makes a statement, it is an investment that can pay off. Few things are able to hold their value these volatile days. A pre-owned Rolex can very well hold its own.

To save $100 on your purchase, simply mention the Asian Journal ad or mention Code A101 to get it. The showroom is located at 607 South Hill Street Suite 508 in Downtown Los Angeles. They will beat any competitor's price. Call (213) 622-2622.

Picture yourself wearing a Rolex watch. Or how about giving a Rolex timepiece as a gift and as an unmistakably strong statement of your love and devotion? Check out The Watch Empire in Downtown Los Angeles. Over the years, it has become a respected leader in Fine Swiss Watch sales of new and pre-owned Rolex watches as well as other fine Swiss timepieces. They will beat any competitor's price. Call (213) 622-2622 for an appointment.
