He chooses good roles and projects; a credible and in-demand product endorser. He's very well respected and sought after in the industry.

He is one of those who most likely will achieve legendary status in Philippine cinema.

2. Richard Gutierrez - GMA's golden boy. He fluidly transitioned from teeny bopper characters into more mature, age-appropriate roles. An impeccable dresser to boot. Richard, with his mestizo good looks and commendable work ethic, continues to make a dent in the entertainment industry. He's very likable because of his down-to-earth nature. He continues to unleash the kilig factor among his female fanbase.

A versatile actor and multi-talented in other levels of production, this young man has barely scratched the surface of his potential.

Woman who stalked Barretto's kid nabbed

Joanne Castro was nabbed on Friday evening in the vicinity of Robinson's Specialty Stores Inc. in Libis, Quezon City, for allegedly calling up the school of Barretto's daughter, claiming that she was a friend of the actress and had gifts from fans to give to Sabina. Ms Barretto filed the complaint with the NBI. The Quezon City prosecutors' office, through assistant city prosecutor Vesta Victoria Giner-Villamor, has recommended a P2,000 bail for the suspect's temporary liberty.

yaya, Merly Basco, that Reyes was a churchmate of Barretto. "Reyes" allegedly claimed that she recently came from the United States and that she had gifts from Barretto's fans, which "Reyes" wished to give to Basco, with Sabina tagging along.

The yaya, however, refused and referred the woman to Barretto's secretary, Lanilyn Caparros, who said in a separate affidavit that she did not know "Reyes."

The celebrity couple said they were so alarmed that Barretto "immediately rushed to Sabina's school to personally pick her up for fear of a possible abduction of her daughter."

"Reyes" allegedly called Caparros the following day to ask for personal information about the Santiagos, claiming that she was a close friend of the couple and that they belonged to the same church.

"She knew about confidential information about us which are usually not known to others. She was insistent that our daughter be brought when the packages she claimed that were in her possession be picked up," the Santiagos' affidavit read.

The NBI added that Castro was able to get private information by winning over the confidence of people really close to both Barretto and Santos.

"Further investigation revealed that she was an avid fan of Judy Ann Santos and was pestering and bothering the Santiago-Barretto household to gather information about Claudine Barretto, whom she perceived as the closest rival of her idol," the NBI complaint read.

Caparros later called back "Reyes" and was told by a certain Joanne Castro of RSSI that "Reyes" was out of the office and that Castro would meet Caparros in "Reyes" stead.

"Ngunit pinatutunayan ko na ang boses ni Joanne at ng babaeng nagpakilalang si Annaliza Reyes ay iisa lamang (But I can attest to the fact that the voice of Joanne and that of the woman who introduced herself as Annaliza Reyes were one and the same," she said in her affidavit.

The NBI then had Caparros meet Castro on Friday evening in Libis, Quezon City. Castro, a sales audit staff of RSSI, was arrested on the same evening.

In an interview on QTV's Balitanghali, the Santiagos' lawyer Raymond Fortun said they suspected that the woman was part of a group trying to abduct celebrities' kids.

"We feel that the woman is probably one of several members of a group trying to kidnap children of celebrities," he said. (Inquirer.net)

A season long...

out but it will. What is certain is that the tremendous run-up in real estate prices from 2001 till the last quarter of 2007 followed a steep curve and having reached its peak in 2007 will continue to fall over the next few years. It will be a buyers' market. It was an unprecedented phenomenon and few among government regulators and economists blew the whistle on the overheated real estate market. There were short-term, hefty profits to be made at the time and everyone, individuals and institutions, got in on the act, fueled by the human emotions of fear and greed. Over and over again in the last few centuries, FEAR AND GREED have driven the markets and these will continue to do so as long as our DNA wiring remains the same. And over and over again, as we move to recovery, the lessons will be forgotten.

principle of "Horror Vacui" or that nature abhors a vacuum. There will be a new season that will come out of this, perhaps on the proviso, that we learn something from this.
